1. Second Army Corps Headquarters: Headquarters located in a four-story building in Piazza Stalin, in Zagreb. Each floor consists of 25 rooms. The various offices are distributed as follows:
 - a. 1 floor: Protocol, couriers and personnel. About 15 soldiers, armed with sub-machineguns, serve as military couriers, and maintain contacts between Belgrade, Sarajevo, Skoplje, and intermediate centers.
 - b. 2 floor: Offices of 2 Army Corps Commander and his aides, and of the Political Commissar, Major General Ivan Svibl, 55. He is pro-Tito.
 - c. 3 floor: Political Office, marked with the initials OSKOS., which forms part of the "12 Unit", and charged with surveillance of the activities of all troops. This office has jurisdiction over all the military disciplinary camps, and issues orders to the various Political Commissars. The staff consists of about 30 officers.
 - d. 4 floor: Organizing Office, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Slavko Janekovic, a Serbian about 45 years old.
2. Air Force Command: Located in a building opposite 2 Army headquarters. It occupies only the first floor of the five-story building, the other floors being private apartments. The commander is Lieutenant Colonel Celekovic, aged 34 years, a former bank employee in Zagreb, and a pre-war officer. The exact assignments of this aeronautical command are not known, but many Air Force officers call at this office, and a military courier leaves each day for Belgrade, traveling in a special railway car.
3. Anti-Aircraft Defense Command: Located near Belgrade, in the 3 sector of Dubrava. The command, known as "Zapovjednistvi II P.A.Z." (Prtiv Avionske Zone), is headed by one Zotovic, a Communist formerly interned in a German concentration camp. Several German 88 mm. guns are kept in two sheds located near the building housing the command headquarters.
